ALMA

Hail Paramus, blue and white
For posterity.
Sons and daughters sing her praise
'Till eternity.

MATER-

Raise the chorus, speed it onward.
Let our watchword be
Hail, all hail good fellowship
Paramus, we love thee.

Theme and Foreword

Since time began, mankind has been fascinated by the future. We, too, as freshmen, were mystified by the future, and, as seniors, we graduate even more uncertain of our endeavors. Although "veiled is the future before us", we will, with determination and courage, use the knowledge we gained in high school to prepare for the adventures that lie before us.

The Board of Education meetings, which are held once a month, are open to the public. From left to right are Superintendent of Schools George Hodgins, Secretary of the Board Wesley Van Pelt, President Charles Reid, Vice-Prexident Reuben Samuels, Board Attorney Walter Wittman, and Harold Friedman.

Dr. Wesley Rogler represents the Adult Education Committee and acts as liaison agent between the Board of Education and the Adult School Education Committee.

The main duties of the Educational Committee are the recommendation of teachers' salaries, salary policies, curriculum studies, and the recommendation of the purchase of educational supplies and equipment. Left to right are Mr. Ronald Mastrolia, Mr. William Schneider, Chairman Harold Friedman, Mr. Allen Felix, and Mr. Reuben Samuels.

Men of Vision

About a decade ago, a group of devoted men put into action a plan that had far-reaching results. These founding fathers envisioned a modern school system of which the entire town would always be proud. As men of vision, they were able to foresee many problems which they would encounter, but with determination they achieved their goal with few setbacks.

For all their efforts and for those of the present and future Board members, we, the Class of '61, wish to express our sincere gratitude by dedicating our Yearbook, the Delphian, to the Paramus Board of Education.

The Executive Committee consists of Vice-President Reuben Samuels (left) and President Charles Reid (right). Its main function is to advise the Board on all general principles.

The Property and Planning Committee assists the board by recommending the purchase of school sites, construction of new school facilities, and the maintenance and repair of existing school buildings and grounds. Left to right are Wesley Rogler, Chairman, Reuben Samuels, and Thomas Emma.

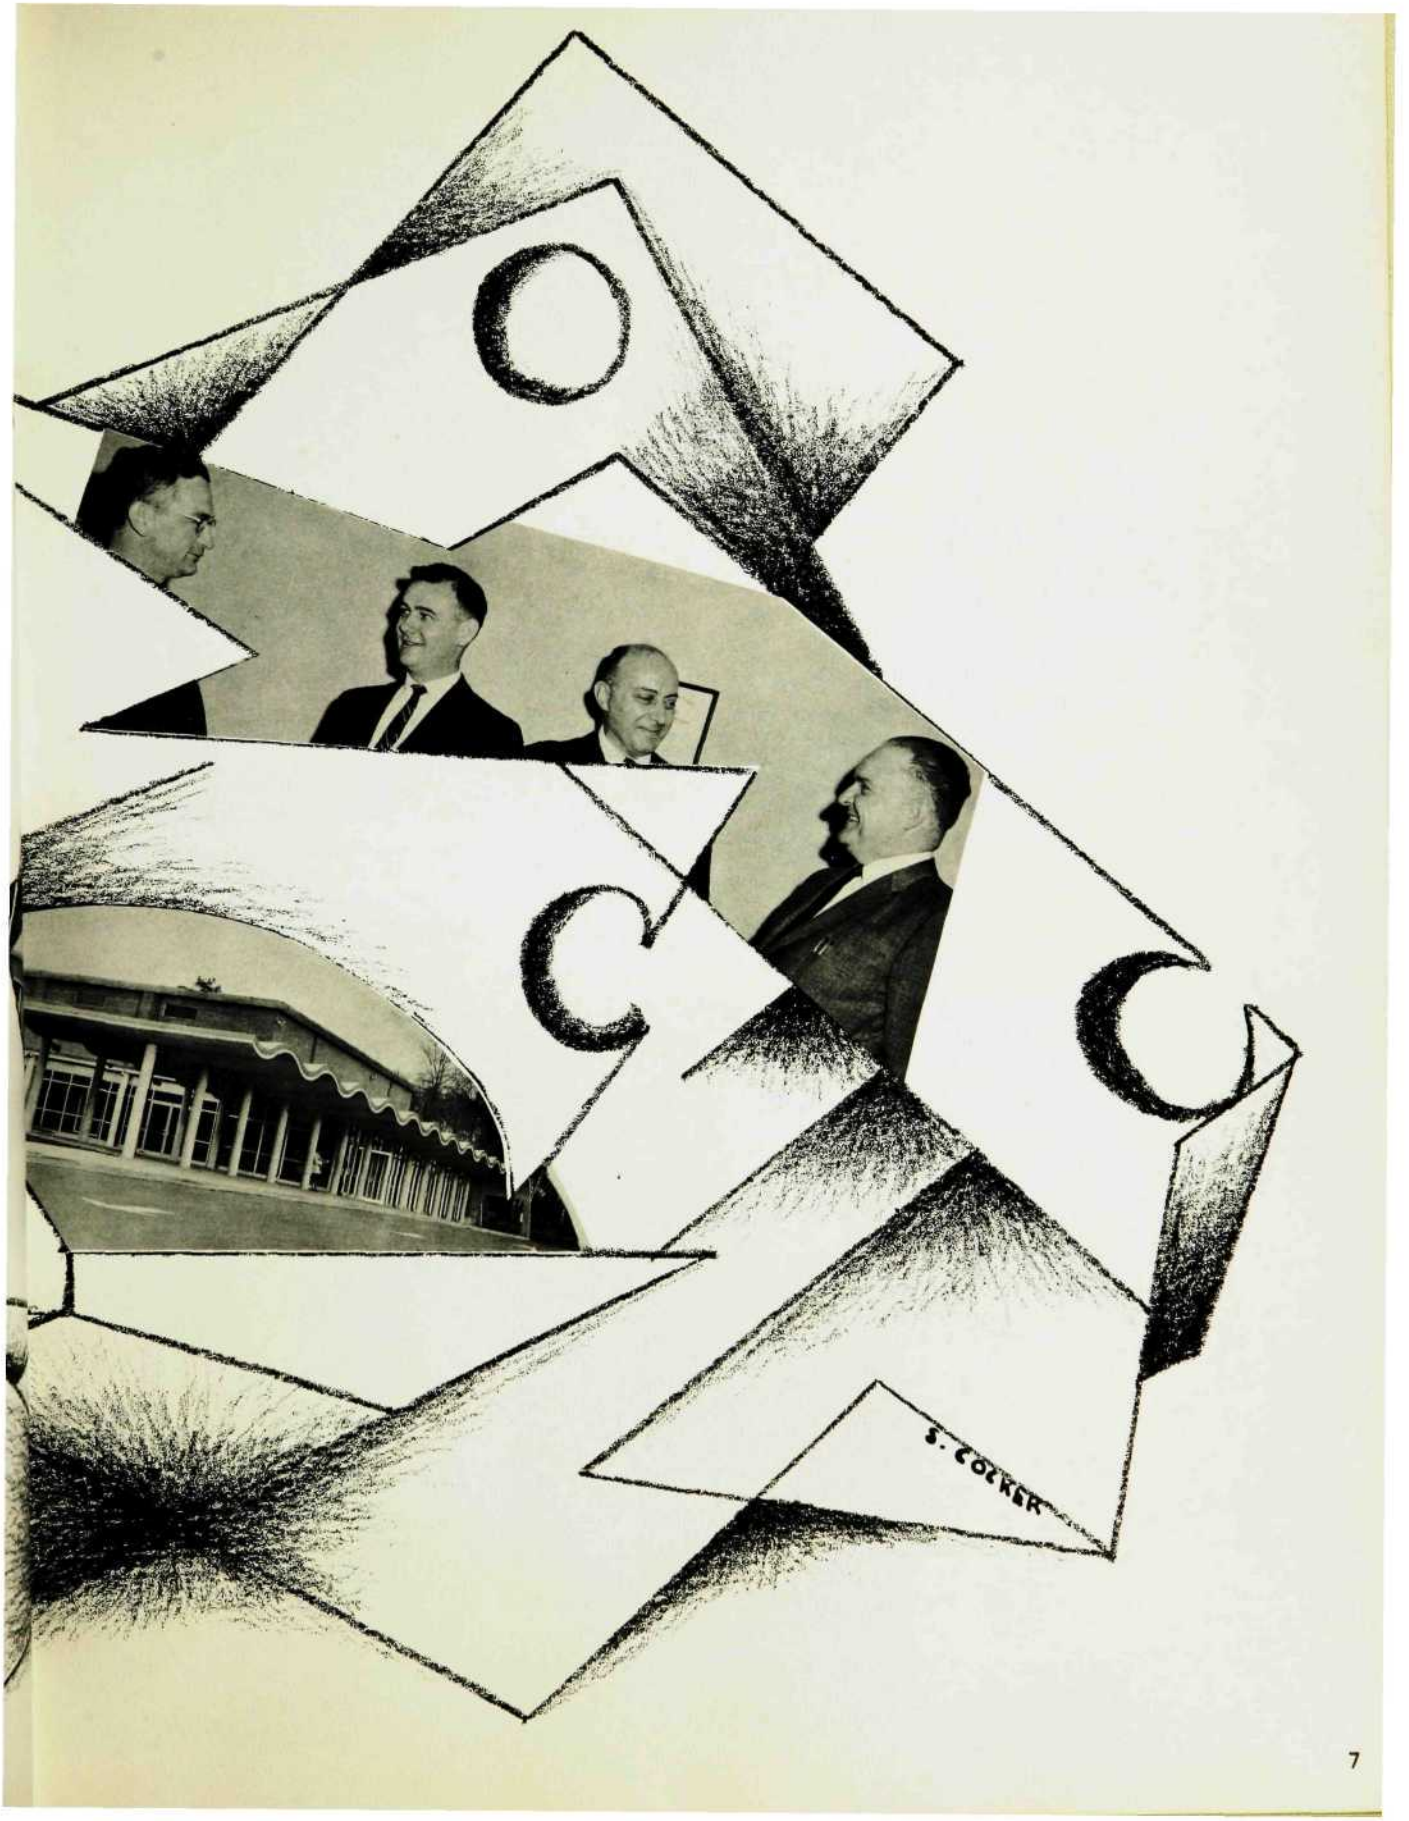

The Communications Committee, consisting of Clifford Steele, Chairman Thomas Emma, and William Schneider, assists the board in preparing a public relations program that will reach many Paramus residents.

The Finance Committee consists of Clifford Steele, Chairman Allen Felix, and Harold Friedman. This committee determines the various amounts of funds available for the purchase of all school supplies and services.

Administration

"Many hands get the work done." Shown in many different activities are the Board of Education secretaries, who are finishing a busy day's work. Pictured are Mrs. Thelma Hards, Mrs. Anne Raubold, Mrs. Jeanne Frost, Mrs. Nellie Mac Donald, Mrs. Suzanne Ward, Mrs. Grace Watson, and Mrs. Eleanor Faller.

Mr. Lincoln Koenig, as Director of Maintenance of the Paramus Public School System, has his headquarters at the Board of Education office in the high school. In this very important capacity he is responsible for the upkeep of all school buildings and property in the system.

Mr. Koenig has been a member of the Paramus Volunteer Fire Department for more than 25 years and has received his 25 year pin.

Mr. Wesley Van Pelt is the Secretary to the Board of Education and Business Manager of the Paramus Schools. His job is an exacting one which he has performed very successfully for several years.

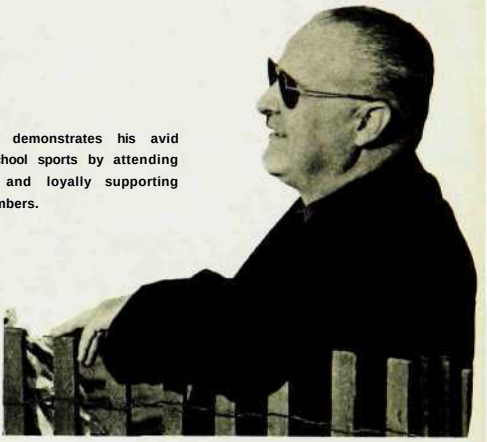

Our Superintendent and his staff look forward to a bright future

Our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. George W. Hodgins, has capably guided the Paramus schools for more than a decade from a small beginning to the large complex system of today.

Mr. Hodgins demonstrates his avid interest in school sports by attending every game and loyally supporting all team members.

"A picture is worth a thousand words." Exemplified in our Paramus High School annual is the wisdom of this off-repeated proverb. As one views the beautiful photographs accompanied by the printed word, he is treated to a picture of Paramus High in action. The Delphian is a genuine example of the Paramus goal: "A good day's work from everyone." For the many students and faculty members who have labored long to produce this finished product, they can feel proud of this accomplishment resulting from their "good day's work."

All our active students in Paramus High School, however, have made some contribution in varying degrees to your Yearbook as they continually strive to make our good school even better. To cherish this copy of the Delphian throughout the years is my sincere wish for each departing senior.

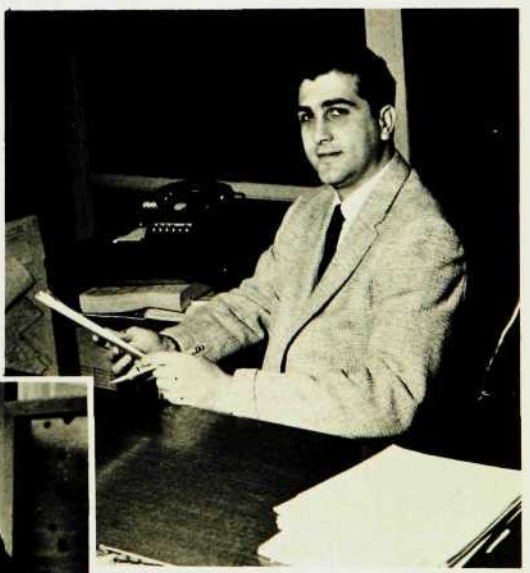

George W. Hodgins

Mr. Wesley Van Pelt

"I wonder if he can hit ill" Mr. Van Pelt takes time out of his busy schedule to take a practice shot of one of his interests, golf.

Mr. Ralph J. Mele, a former elementary grade school teacher, and now our Administrative Assistant, is responsible for student transportation, publication of the Board of Education Newsletter, and general assistance to Mr. Hodgins, Superintendent of Schools.

Parents' Council

Meeting monthly, the Parents' Council of Paramus High School is a group of interested fathers and mothers who advise the school administration on matters directly concerning parents of high school students. Representatives to the council are chosen in homerooms on Parents' Night, each parent is invited to come to the high school and follow his child's schedule.

"With that far-away look in his eyes." Mr. Dunn is seen engaged in one of his favorite pastimes, that of watching intensely all the school games in which the Spartans so actively participate.

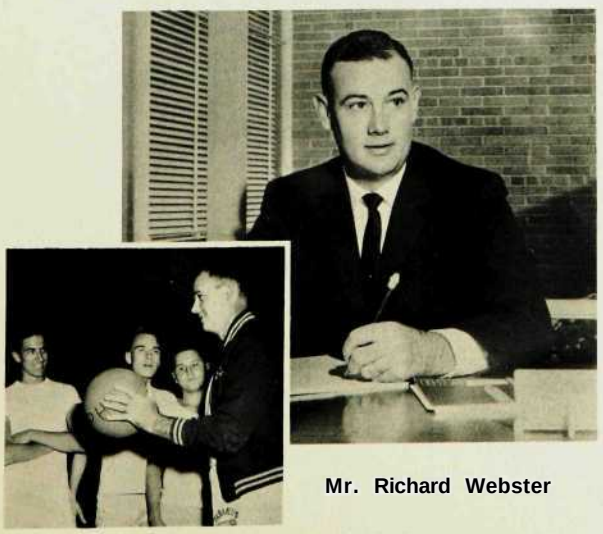

Each page of this yearbook is a treasury of memories for me. Whenever reviewing this book, I am able to feel the spirit of Paramus High School. As a guide for people who have not had the opportunity to "live" in Paramus High School, I, as principal, would like to point out some basic characteristics of our school.

In Paramus High School, emphasis is placed on the importance of the individual person whether he is a student, teacher, office secretary, custodian, bus driver or cafeteria worker. Each person is treated with respect and allowances are made for individuality. All people who "live" in this school community are encouraged by the general atmosphere of being concerned with the happiness and success of others.

Paramus High School is a busy place. Citizens of our "school community" work diligently and receive the inner satisfaction that comes with accomplishment as individuals and as a group.

I hope that each person who examines this yearbook will derive great personal satisfaction and inspiration from the pictures of wholesome young American youth and the chronicle of their activities as they approach maturity and citizenship in our great country.

William V. Dunn

Our well-organized Guidance Department is composed of a director and three counselors, each of which is a counselor for a particular class. Their jobs cover many areas which include helping with curriculum choices, finding part-time employment, counseling students about college preparation procedures, and supplying information concerning possible careers.

In the eighth grade, the Guidance Department begins its job of helping students in their selection of possible courses. Aptitude and interest tests are taken, but the final decision rests with the student and his parents. Additional counseling of course offerings is given as the student progresses through his four years of high school.

During the junior and senior years, much time is devoted to the selection of schools of higher learning. Many career conferences are held for interested students at which representatives, from all over the country speak.

Occupational guidance is also offered to those who do not elect to take additional training in schools and colleges beyond high school.

One of the most popular places in school is the cafeteria during the 4th and 5th periods. Students are served a hot lunch as well as sandwiches and individual dishes. Ice cream and milk complete the menu to make a full selection of foods.

Since the program is subsidized, the prices are well within the range of the students. A manager, chefs, servers, and cashiers make up the staff. A squad of boys, working in twenty-minute shifts, help wash dishes for which they receive their lunch in turn. On many occasions the facilities of the cafeteria have been used by outside groups and organizations.

Two matrons and twelve custodians make up the friendly, efficient custodial staff of Paramus High School. In addition to servicing the school plant, these staff members maintain the thirty-four acre campus with expert care.

With many activities and events in and out of school, the members of the staff must be on duty almost continuously. Without their help, we would not have such a fine school of which to be so proud.

Friendly, efficient, and cooperative, the maintenance staff is constantly striving to keep our school spotlessly clean. Mr. Jim Candusio, Mr. Fred Wegehaupt, Mr. Arie Hayunga, Mr. William Vivona, Mr. Charlie Stelling, Mr. Gus Konicki, Mr. Gerard Fuchs.

Faculty and Curriculum

English is the basis for a successful future...

Paramus High students are being taught modern techniques of expression by their competent English instructors. This language arts course has proved to be both stimulating and challenging. Advanced classes have been provided for those who are desirous of pursuing possible literary careers or furthering their own classical interests.

Wider latitudes of reading are being encouraged as well as intensive vocabulary study. The work being stressed includes discussions and creative writing.

Juniors and seniors study primarily American and British literature, while underclassmen explore the many literary forms and fields available in modern English.

Courses in speech are becoming increasingly popular each year at Paramus High. Speech fundamentals are given in the first year which teach students to think on their feet; to gain confidence, poise, and self-reliance; to help improve their individual speech patterns; and to develop an appreciation for the communication arts. These goals are obtained through formal and informal speaking, group discussions, and studying the speech techniques of radio and television artists.

During the second year the speech arts further develop the fundamentals learned in the first year. In addition, there is a concentration on the theater including acting and play production.

Social Studies can be exercised through the Student

Man's desire to understand the complex world in which he dwells has given rise to increased knowledge in every field. Through the study of history we hope to discover the answers to the problems of the present by examining the answers of the past.

In Paramus High School the aim of the Social Studies Department is to instill patriotism for their country and enlighten the students as to the role of the United States in the world situation.

Numerous audio-visual aids, field trips to historic places, public speakers, current events discussions, and term reports are used by the department as a means of creating interest in man's recorded struggle for survival.

Through the various courses offered in the Social Studies Department, the high school hopes to meet its challenge of producing students who will make better citizens upon leaving Paramus High.

An ever-increasing emphasis upon a greater knowledge of mathematics is becoming more and more apparent in our present scientific age. Paramus High School is more than adequately meeting this challenge with its wide selection of math courses which it offers to satisfy the needs of all students.

There is an advanced program which includes two and a half years of algebra, and one year with a choice of plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, or calculus. Students selecting this curriculum participate in the Math League of Bergen County, learn the history of mathematics, and do research projects. College-bound students, not majoring in math, are offered a program sufficient to meet the demands of institutions of higher learning.

Students entering the commercial fields are offered courses in general and business mathematics. Industrial arts students are given courses in shop mathematics and mechanical drawing. To round out the program there is a senior refresher course in arithmetic for those who desire to review the fundamentals before leaving high school.

cmd explorations are found in the Science Department...

Sometimes we have a tendency to think of science as primarily a record of man's accomplishments. As with any aspect of history, this record is, of course, important. Its major value lies in the use that we can make of it to improve man's thought and action in the future.' Science as a school subject should be far more than description and history. It is a way of thinking and acting, in and out of school. Hence, science has become one of the most important studies offered in our high school curriculum. Our capable science department helps qualify students for scientific vocations by transmitting the cultural heritage and encouraging youth to enrich and refine this heritage.

Several branches of science are offered which include general science for freshmen, biology for sophomores, chemistry for juniors, and physics for seniors. In addition to the regular courses, accelerated ones are offered to students of greater interest or ability. A physical science course is also offered to juniors and seniors who have not completed the requirement for one year of science in their high school career.

Forty-five minutes a day can be spent in the country of your choice...

Instruction in five languages is offered by the Foreign Language Department. One of the most popular languages, Spanish, has a varied and interesting program. Third year students compiled a scrapbook of the school and community life which was sent to Mexico through a Red Cross program. In return they received a book from a Spanish-speaking country. After reading Don Quixofe in their third year, students went to see the movie in New York. Fourth year students corresponded with pen pals from Ecuador and Spain.

Students are introduced to the vast world of French literature by reading many short stories. In the third year emphasis is placed upon literature contained in an anthology giving a short excerpt from the major writers of each era. In the fourth year an anthology of French literature is studied covering one entire work of each school of literature.

In the Italian Department emphasis is placed upon the cultural value of the language through conversation, reading, and writing. Stories are read and students may illustrate them. Students are also given the opportunity to write an original story in Italian. Plays and novels are included in their outside reading to acquaint them with modern Italian literature.

Students on the second year level of German are familiarized with the history and geography of German-speaking countries. On the third year level students read and prepare as a play for the annual language festival the story Emil und die Detekiive by Erich Kastner, a nineteenth-century prose writer. German students are planning to participate again in the German Poetry Festival to be held at Rutgers University in the spring. Last year Peggy Becker won a book prize by reciting a poem by Herman Hesse. A number of students correspond and exchange ideas with students of various high schools in Germany. All German classes are planning a trip to New York to see the production of Goethe's Faust by the famous Hamburg Playhouse in February.

Much stress in Latin is placed upon the value of the contribution of the roots of words in the formation of so many of our English words. Students have sight translation work and read several of the more famous authors of antiquity. Unusual projects are provided for students in Latin III.

prepares secretaries and typists for the commercial world . . .

For students entering the commercial field, the Business Education Department offers a coordinated curriculum of studies.

Starting with general business, a course which covers the fundamentals, the regular courses of bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand follow. Office practice, a half-year course in conjunction with business machines, further attempts to prepare students for future jobs in the various commercial fields. Completing the program is secretarial practice which gives the finishing touches to a complete business education.

A unique feature of the business program is the distributive education course. In this area seniors who have taken salesmanship and commercial law may take their required majors in the morning and work in the afternoon. This part-time work is supplemented with a classroom major, in which the work experience is evaluated and the "ins" and "outs" of salesmanship are explained.

Creati[illegible] Arts[illegible]ve students a chance to show their skill... 1

Under the heading "Creative Arts" are grouped three related fields: art, home economics, and industrial arts. These three departments work very artistically together in oil their school projects. One such example is the production of a play. Settings are sketched by the architectural drawing classes; they are built by the shop classes; and they are painted by the art classes, while the costumes are made by the home economics classes.

In art a wide choice of programs is ofFered. Emphasis is placed upon technique, design, color, and self-expression. Two connecting art rooms provide ample facilities for students to experiment with pastels, water colors, oils, costume designing, architecture, jewelry making, pottery, ceramics and leather work.

Practical skills are learned and applied in the shops

Both a major and a minor in art are offered. Meeting only two periods a week, the minor serves as a developmental hobby-type activity, while the major allows the students to delve deeper into the finer principles and techniques of art.

Three major shops make up the industrial arts area: the metal shop, the wood shop, and the mechanical drawing room. Students may take a major or minor in shop as in the other creative arts. Courses in mechanical drawing, architectural drawing, general shop, woodworking, and general machine practice are given to develop skill, pride in accomplishment and self-reliance, as well as to provide practical experience in a variety of industrial processes and materials.

Preparing for the future homefront.

Many different types of practical experience are offered by the home economics department either as a major or minor in the upper grades. As a required course for freshman girls, a study of personal, social, and family relationships, clothing, child care, nutrition, budgeting, interior decoration, and personal grooming is offered.

As seniors, all students take a two-month course in Family Living, which is a co-educational class dealing with the problems of social behavior.

"Prize-winning table setting buffet style." On March 12, 1960 four Paramus High students were awarded first prize in the regional Table Setter-Taste Setter Contest sponsored by Seventeen Magazine. A bird cage fashioned in colors by the girls to match the tablecloth and china was the centerpiece. Standing around the table are Mrs. Marie Ne who use, manager and owner of the Fireside Inn, Rochelle Park, N. J.; Mrs. Peter Covente, past president of the Paramus Woman's Club; and Arlene Carbonneau, Roberta Downs, Mary Lou Ziegler, and Christine Czyz, students at Paramus High School.

Action is the password in the Physical Education Department...

"Notice the perfect form." Mr. Hoeland and Myron Jennings are carefully acting as spotters as Ken Ernst, Jim Bryson, Ron Kobelin and Alvin Beitler watch Ned McCarthey doing a difficult gymnastic.feat on the parallel bars.

Paramus High School's Department of Physical Education has constructed a valuable program which instills leadership, responsibility, character, and recognition of others as well as enjoyment and top physical condition in each and everyone of its students.

Each student has gym at least four times a week and has the convenience of a large gym, an auxiliary gym, the best of equipment and an adequately supplied athletic field.

Freshmen and sophomores have one period of health education a week; juniors have driver education; seniors have gym five days a week and one marking period out of the year they have Family Living.

An important person who helps tremendously in the smooth operation of our large, complex plant is the school nurse, Mrs. Ella M. Fielding. Ever present in an emergency, she is constantly checking on the welfare of the students and staff of Paramui High to see that we stay in good physical condition. Located near the gymnasium, her office is the scene of many examinations and check - upt when the school physician visits.

"It's not braktnt" Mrs. Wough administers first-aid to Doreen Kern after she sprained her ankle during a volley ball game.

Education assures America of safe drivers for the future . . .

"There aren't any cars coming." Judy Pedersen shows Mr. Peck that all women drivers aren't bad.

A very valuable addition to the curriculum is the driver education course. Meeting once a week, all juniors take a classroom course during which time they learn the fundamentals of the automobile, safe driving habits, and correct attitudes. They also are given a chance to take the official written test for their driver's licenses in school.

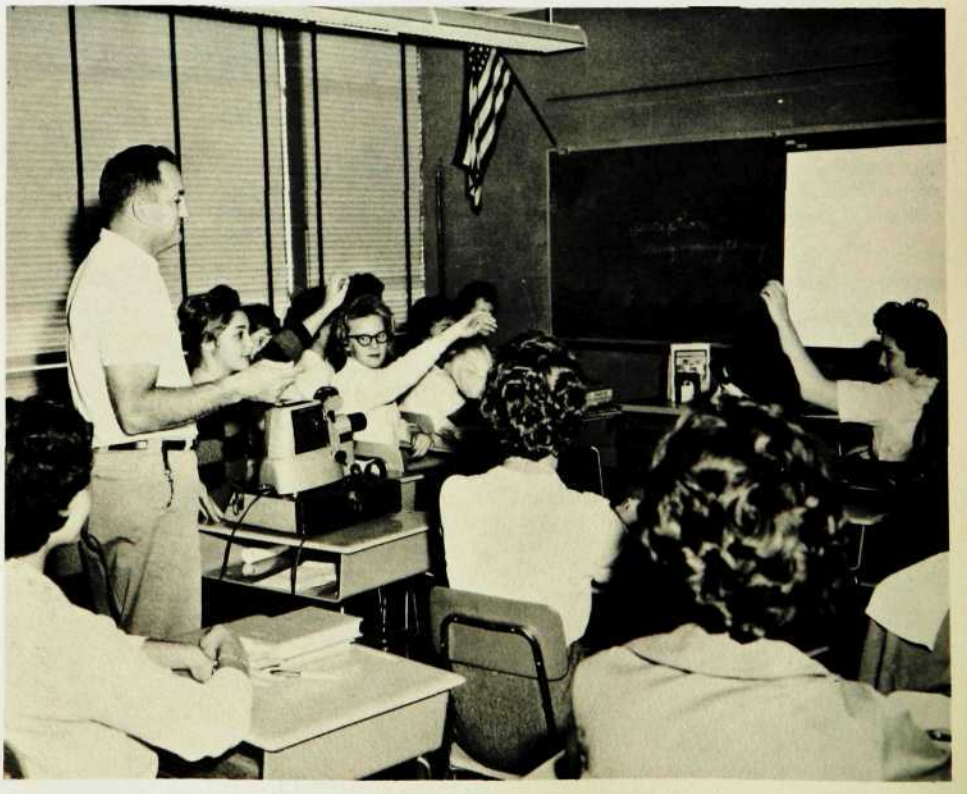

Students who are 16'/2 years of age and who have free time may take the on-the-road training in one of the two dual-controlled cars owned by the school. In approximately nine weeks most of the students can finish the six hour program. The driver education program produces safe drivers and also affords reduced insurance premiums to students successfully completing the course.

Chorus and band are popular ways to show school spirit...

In the music department of Paramus High, there are various activities which offer the student a chance to better himself in specialized areas. Meeting daily, the choir works jointly with the music appreciation class to teach students the finer points of music and singing. This organization serves the school by singing at the Bergen County Choral Festival, caroling at the Bergen Mall, and singing at senior graduation.

The band meets five periods a week with private lessons being offered for each student to help him with his specific instrument. Participating in Paramus High activities, the band plays for assemblies, marches at football games, and represents our school at the annual Bergen County Band Festival. These groups work together harmoniously to give Paramus High School an outstanding music department.

Since it is open before, during, and after school, the library is one of the busiest places in our school. This year a teacher is on duty to check attendance and maintain order. This allows our two librarians, Miss Carney and Mrs. Etzkorn, more time to assist students in locating books and materials for reading and study.

Each year more and more good books are being added to the library's collection to meet the demands of our growing school population. Our collection now totals over 5,000 volumes for over 1,000 borrowers.

Our hard-working librarians are active in county and state professional associations, and we benefit greatly from the cooperation of neighboring libraries.

For professional growth and stature

Every teacher in the Pa ram us school system is encouraged to become a member of the Paramus Teachers' Association. Interested in the improvement of educational standards and the welfare of its teachers, the Association seeks to keep the members informed of current legislation. A candidates' night, prior to each Board of Education election, is an activity sponsored by the Association as a group.

One of the major projects of the Teachers' Association is the raising of funds for presenting a $500 scholarship to each of two worthy members of the graduating class. Arsenic and Old Lace was presented by the faculty and other fund raising activities were used to reach the goal of the scholarship fund.

Meetings are held regularly in the cafeteria. Mr. John Le Rose is the president; Mr. Dan Girado, the vice-president; Miss Ellen Meyer, the secretary; and Miss Dorothy Bachmann, the treasurer.

Activities

Toward self-government... individuality . . .

As the governing body of the Student Organization, the Student Council of Paramus High School has for its purposes the setting up of a social and activity calendar for the school year and the directing of students in worthwhile projects.

Membership in the Student Organization is open to all students of Paramus High School who live up to the Student Code as set forth by the Student Council of 1959-1960. Two representatives to the Council are chosen from each of the freshman and sophomore English classes and two from each of the junior and senior history classes. Officers are elected by the student body in the spring.

Funds raised by the Student Council underwrite all costs of student activities and help to defray the costs of the newspaper and the yearbook.

Among the worthwhile activities sponsored by the Student Council, which is advised by the Social Studies Department and composed of several permanent committees, are included the Winter Formal, the Thanksgiving Eve bonfire, the Senior Class Trip to Washington, the Senior Prom, the support of Kim Hung Kil (a Korean boy adopted by the student body), the selling of school rings, and the operation of the student store.

Having won a first-place classification for the initial Delphian, the yearbook staff has been working vigorously to produce another volume of equally high standards.

Two new advisers, Mrs. Gibson as Business Manager, and Mr. Boyce as Literary Adviser, have joined the staff to help Mrs. Willis with the innumerable problems that have to be solved in writing and publishing a yearbook.

To record in words and pictures the people and their activities during a school year requires a full staff of diligent workers. This year over fifty students participated actively.

Launching the campaign to sell copies of the Delphian during the Halloween season, the publicity department used the ghost and goblin theme with appropriate sayings in the student commons, and they placed placards around the school reminding students to buy their share of memories by purchasing a yearbook.

The highest privilege a student can earn . . . membership in the Honor Society.

"What do you mean, now we hove no excuse /or nof reading?" Verne Smith and Robert Kennedy are browsing through the review books offered by the Honor Society which are being sold by Myron Murdock and Richard Callahan, members of the society.

In the spring of 1959 the George W. Hodgins Chapter of the National Honor Society was formed at Paramus High School with the express purpose of giving recognition to outstanding seniors and of sponsoring projects which would raise the cultural standards of the school.

To qualify for membership in the Society, a student must be in the top ten per cent of his class, must possess the qualities of leadership, scholarship, service, and character, and must be rated by the faculty on these qualities.

Some of the worthwhile projects set up by the Chapter are the establishing of a tutoring service, holding a book sale, having a display in the exhibit case, and writing, producing, directing, and presenting a play by the members of the group for the spring induction ceremony for juniors.

Helping students in a fast, efficient manner is the Library Council's goal.

Service to the school community is the primary purpose of the Library Council. Library aides are trained to perform a number of skills and duties which enables the library to function more efFectively. Council members assist the librarians in their duties and help their fellow students to fînd the books and materials they need. This year the Council held a book sale and helped decorate the Student Commons for Christmas.

Service is the key-note of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Our Tri-Hi-Y is a member of the national organization for high school girls. Service and sociability are the two main functions of this school club. Among the various activities for the year were sponsoring charity drives, serving as usherettes at school functions, meeting with other schools for social occasions, and holding discussions on timely topics with other schools.

One of the highlights of the year was the winter outing held at Holiday Hills in New York State with other Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y groups. A weekend of skiing, skating, and sliding made this a very memorable experience.

A very active part of the William V. Dunn Chapter of the national organization. Future Teachers of America Associations, is the Teacher Aid Program. Students work with teachers in performing clerical duties and in tutoring students who need academic help. This type of service gives those who are interested in education a fore-taste of what teaching as a career holds for them. Students also render invaluable service to the school, to their fellow classmates, and to themselves.

Regular meetings are held to which prominent educators are invited so that the students may learn of the many opportunities open to the youth of America in the teaching profession.

Under the expert direction of Mrs. Fielding, the Future Nurses have gained one of the most enviable records in the school for active service.

Members of this club assist in performing several community services which include participating in the volunteer aide program at Bergen Pines Hospital, helping out at the Bergen County Blood Bank each month, and making donations of food baskets to needy families at Thanksgiving and at Easter.

Visits are made to various hospitals for observation of good nursing procedures. Guest speakers, films, and film strips on nursing as a profession round out a full program for those interested in the opportunities in nursing.

In the nurse's office Joyce Bryson and Linda Ellebrecht are using one of the modern pieces of valuable equipment, the audiometer.

Traffic Police during rush hours.

Open to all junior and senior boys, the Campus Patrol has become a very active service organization since it started in September, 1959.

There are several areas which are under the direct supervision of the Campus Patrol. In the student parking area, the members of the patrol check to see that all cars have been properly registered with the office, they see to it that all cars are driven and parked correctly, and they help maintain a safe and steady flow of traffic.

In the faculty parking area, the patrol help to keep a constant flow of traffic during the bus pick-up and discharge periods. They are also responsible for keeping only authorized cars and visitors in the faculty parking lot.

A third and final area that the Campus Patrol has control over is making sure that students abide by all school regulations pertaining to going to the parking area and leaving the campus.

Complex mathematical problems are tackled in the Math League.

Membership in the Math League is based on the ability of those who volunteer as participants. Five meets a year are held with the other schools in the area. Instead of competing against each other, the groups from the various schools are divided into five teams, which compete against each other. There are five problems at each session, each with a time limit. When time is called, the number of correct answers for each team is totaled and the team with the highest score is the winner for that particular meet.

Membership in the Astronomy Club is limited to those who have a genuine interest in man's oldest science. This club affords an opportunity to explore and extend that interest by holding discussions at its regular meetings on present day topics pertaining to Astronomy.

Currently the six budding astronomers are grinding lenses for another telescope which will be added to the equipment already in use at their night observation meetings held several times a month.

Members of the G. A. A. play both home and away games in the various sports, as well as intramural s after school.

Under the superior guidance of Miss Nelson, Mrs. Waugh, and Mrs. Holmes, these sports enthusiasts learn the basic skills of field hockey, soccer, volleyball, basketball, softball and track. Besides this the girls are exceptionally good folk dancers. Each year the G. A. A. holds a Folk Dance Festival which many schools attend.

PHS's best in athletics.

Under the excellent direction of the faculty adviser, Mr. Herb Hoeland, the Lettermen's Club has come a long way in providing activities and functions for the school. Many will remember the comical basketball game between the senior lettermen, who wore girls' gym suits and boxing gloves, and the cheerleaders, who wore football jerseys. Dressed as cheerleaders, the underclassmen members of the club cheered the lettermen on to victory.

Other activities and services of the club have been the successful Lettermen's Dance, the Newsletter sent to all alumni Lettermen, the performance of their first dramatic presentation, and the help provided for the football and basketball games and other sports activities.

Three popular sports at PHS.

Winter sports are well represented in our school by the popular Ski Club, which provides an opportunity for students to participate in a healthful, recreational activity.

Members of the club have taken day, weekend, and Christmas trips to ski slopes in New York State and Vermont. During the Christmas vacation, seven members and Miss Freeman, adviser to the group, traveled to Rutland, Vermont, for the five days of skiing at the Killington Mountain, Okemo Mountain, Piko Peak, and High Meadow ski areas.

A completely renovated Riding Club is making its way through the beautiful bridle paths throughout Paramus this year. It is making a strong bid for acceptance as it offers instruction and fun to those interested in this form of recreation. All members receive expert training in the care of the animals and the equipment they are using. Coupled with these fundamentals are the good times which are experienced by the riders as they make thrilling jaunts over the bounteous countryside.

A true sportsman is forever striving for improvement. PHS offers an excellent chance for all golfing enthusiasts to do just that, and for many others to try their hand at this very popular sport. Teaching sportsmanship along with the basic skills, the club is always striving for improvement in its members' games. Now in its second year of existence, the group is vying for a chance to compete in interscholastic competition.

Limited to boys only, the Gymnastics Club strives to promote a better appreciation of physical culture.

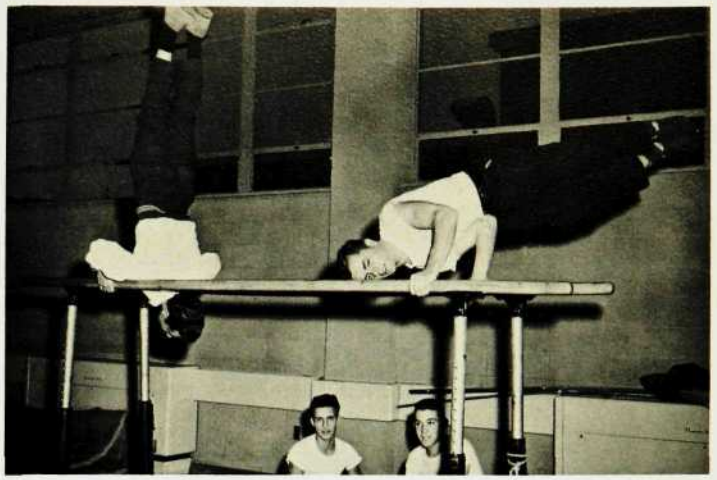

Among the various activities performed are tumbling, acrobatics and numerous exercises, which are designed 1o build better bodies. Routine workouts are held three times weekly under the supervision of Mr. Stefaniak, who hopes to have inter-scholastic competition next year.

One of the newest extra-curricular attractions, the Fencing Club, expertly coached by Mr. David Brockner, is fast becoming a familiar sight as the members practice in front of the auditorium for their future matches.

A practical demonstration in the basic routines of the art of fencing was given by Mr. Brockner and his group at an assembly designed to encourage interested students to join the various extra-curricular activities offered in Paramus High.

According to those who have already joined the club, fencing offers an excellent opportunity to keep in good physical condition while learning a new skill.

To promote good music is the aim of the Chorus.

Giving spring and Christmas concerts, and presenting enjoyable entries in our assembly programs are a few of our Concert Choir's noteworthy functions. Four members of the Choir were sent to the All-Eastern Choir this year to continue in its already set tradition of promoting good music.

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Allen and its officers, the Choir has steadily gained recognition for our school in its various choral offerings.

Band members appear in many school and town activities.

Ellen Patri as majorette marches before the band in formation on the field.

In its fourth year of active participation, the Paramus High School Band has provided music of the highest quality for many important occasions. Recognition of its achievements, however, do not stop with the school's environment. Under the baton of its director, Mr. Ryerson, the band has won an excellent reputation in Bergen County by actively participating in the annual Teaneck Festival of Bands, the annual Fourth of July and Memorial Day parades, and by playing at all the school's football games. Music by the band has also been provided at many assemblies and pep rallies, and an annual concert is a major school event.

This year five members of the band were chosen as delegates to the New Jersey All-State Band tryouts. These members were: Neil Robertson, Joseph Oranchak, Jonathan Romney, Wesley Van Pelt, and Bob Riedel.

Membership in the band is open to all musically - minded students. All members are given private lessons on their respective instruments, and receive marks and scholastic credits.

Of all the school organizations the Drama Workshop has perhaps made the greatest stride in living up to its reputation by presenting extremely memorable shows. Near professional results have been achieved under the most capable direction of Mr. Morganti. Membership in the Workshop must be actively maintained or a person forfeits his coveted right to belong to this highly active group. After passing an audition, the fortunate applicant is ready to begin sharing the valuable experience offered by the Workshop.

Paramus High School is deeply indebted to these actors and actresses for providing stimulating drama and great entertainment. Among its more prominent productions was this year's full length evening show, The Diary of Anne Frank.

Participation in the Playmakers Drama Festival of Bergen County is a distinction that the members of the Drama Workshop are proud to claim.

Coach Bill Peck with his assistants, Coaches Brown, De Gasperis, Grasso, and Nardo, did an excellent job in putting together a strong varsity team and providing experienced men for the future, when Paramus enters the strongest league in the county, the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League.

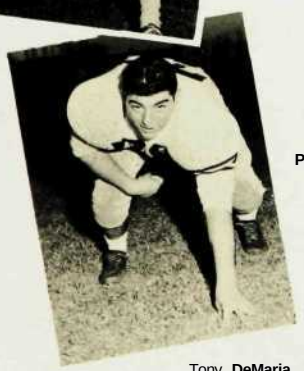

As a result of injuries and inexperience, the Spartans were hindered in achieving their usual victorious season but they never gave up and throughout the season were determined to win. This is demonstrating the true Spartan spirit.

Honorable mention for "all county" should go to Captain Joe Muklevicz (Center) and Gary Carpenter (End).

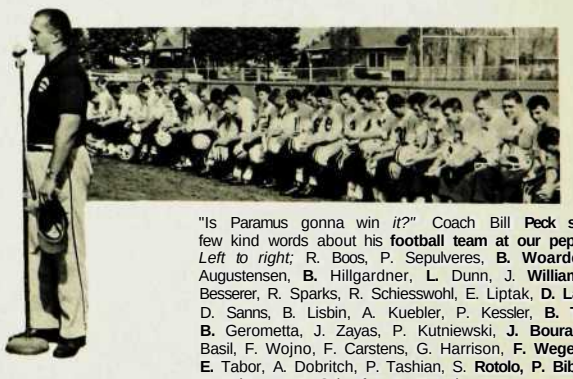

Several factors in upsetting East Paterson on October 2, 1960 at the outset of our gridders' second season of varsity football were the Spartans "multiple formation offense" and varied defense techniques in addition to the fine conditioning by the coaches. These factors plus good school spirit were prevalent at all the games despite the final season record of one win and eight tosses.

Paramus High School can be very proud of its Freshman Football Team. They have won the trophy for the Bergen County Junior Scholastic Conference for two consecutive years, 1959 and 1960, with the help of their excellent coaches, Mr. Charles Brown and Mr. Vincent Nardo. Not only are the boys taught the fundamentals and skills of the game, but also fair play and good sportsmanship.

Many of the boys had never played soccer before and the sport proved to be interesting as well as challenging. Coaching the varsity team was Mr. Ernest Unger, who was an outstanding soccer player while in high school and college. Despite its inexperience, the team did a good job. Our season ended with one win, five losses, and four ties. Chuck Price should receive honorable mention for making the all-county left wing position.

Coach Unger looks forward to next year and a good season with his returning lettermen and experienced sophomores who have been ably prepared for playing on the varsity team by the freshman soccer coach, Mr. Norman Allen.

Paramus High's second varsity season proved to be successful despite the lack of an experienced team at the outset of the season. Through the fine coaching of Mr. Herb Hoeland and his assistant, and the J. V. and sophomore coach, Mr. Bob Kingsley, the team finished the season with an .760 average.

Our team really showed their power by defeating three of the county's toughest teams, Cliffside Park, Teaneck, and Hackensack, in the invitational N. N. J. I. L. (Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League) Festival tournament, thus winning it.

Mr. Kingley's J.V. and sophomore teams who compiled a 13 win — 3 loss record at the time the yearbook went to press and Mr. Brown's freshman team with a 13-3 record at the same time, will provide the varsity team with well experienced boys for next year's team.

Men . . . mats . . . muscles . . . much needed in wrestling.

Newly organized, the Wrestling Team, under the helpful instruction of Mr. Peter Newell, has proved to be of great interest to the boys of P. H. S. Many boys saw action for the first time in the Bergen County Coaches Association Tournament at River Dell Senior High School during the week of December 28 to December 30, 1960.

Paramus grapplers, despite their lack of experience and time to prepare for the match, managed to enter the semi-finals. Ed Moran, a junior, was successful in achieving a record for our school by pinning his opponent in fifteen seconds, a new tournament record.

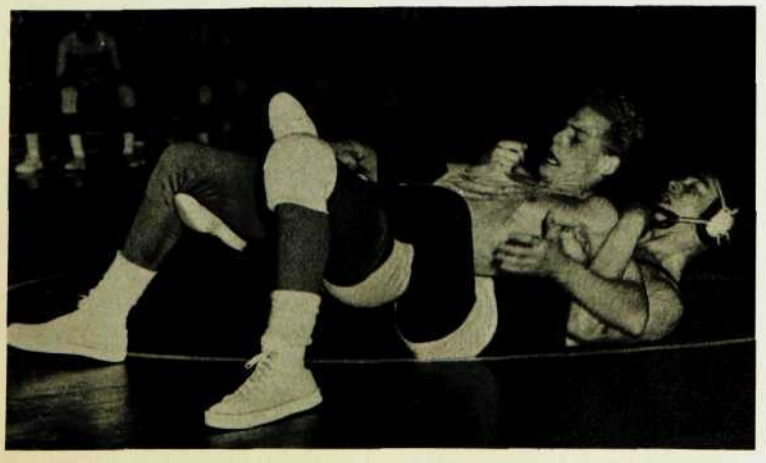

"Almost a pin." Coach Newell is about to give points in wrestling as Barry Tuchin and Al Keubler compete in a practice meet, tooting on in the rear: Richard Remick, Bruce Forrest, Ken Tashian, Bruce Lisbin, Paul Tashian, Donald Sanns, Ed Moran, Henry Norring, Frank Carstens while Dr. Arthur Mahoney observes with interest members of our wrestling team.

"It's a cinch it's a clinch!" Al Kuebler and Burt Augustensen demonstrate one of the interesting holds in wrestling.

As soon as March 1st rolls around the P. H. S. baseball team can be seen engaged in vigorous spring practice which will prepare them for the long season ahead. Without the fine coaching and training of Mr. Kingsley, varsity coach, and Mr. Hoeland, J. V. coach, however, the successful teams produced each year would not be a reality.

Our 1960 varsity team had a successful season, a goal strived for by all P. H. S. teams. Teamwork and good sportsmanship were two of the prerequisites shown by the team in their winning games.

"Hold the bat this way." Captain Bill Yager shows Bill Merrell the proper way to bunt.

Two active sports:

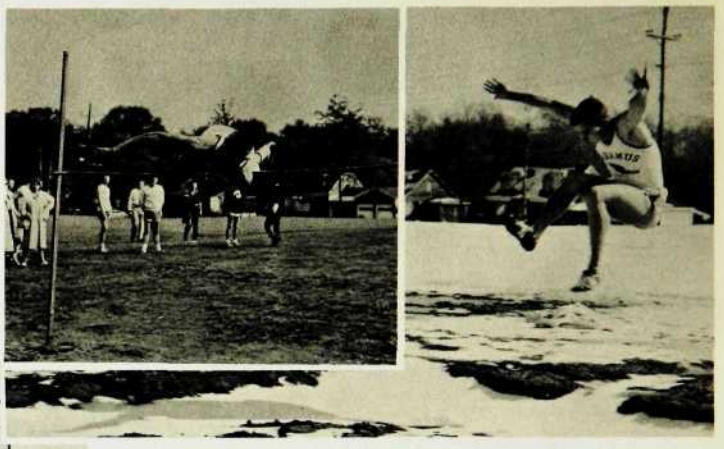

Boys of all sizes and abilities can participate in track and field since the events are varied. As in other individual sports, the outcome of the event, however, depends entirely upon the participant's ability and training.

Through the superb coaching of Mr. Lanzalotto and his assistant, Mr. De Filippo, many P. H. S. athletes have excelled in this ever popular spring sport.

Our 1960 varsity track team brought glory to P. H. S. first by compiling a fine record despite the strong opposition, and second by having some boys win medals in various invitational meets. All the time and energy each boy contributes to track practice certainly makes the team a credit to P. H. S.

"No wonder George used a silver dollar!" Fred Wegehaupt throws the discus at track practice.

A demonstration of the broad jump by Jim Lutz, captain of the track team, shows that nothing deters them from practice — not even snow.

Ed Hille "gracefully" clears the bar at six feet.

Coach Al De Filippo's harriers, being the only varsity team to finish above the .500 mark this fall, have certainly earned their high status in PHS.

Often the boys can be seen running the gruelling two and one-half mile course which begins with a lap around the track to Century Road, down Century to Spring Valley Road and around behind the school, following the sidewalk all the way to Farview Avenue. Then they travel south along Farview to Century Road, down Century again and repeat the same course, ending the meet with a lap around the track.

Like other track and field sports, the Cross Country Team leaves team victory up to the individual. Success in the sport is determined by the amount of work the individuals put into their efforts.

"How many miles more?!!" Jim O'Sheo and Henry Norring take a few laps around the track.

Intramurals provide something for everyone

Open to all girls in Paramus High, the intramural program offers a variety of sports to satisfy interests of students. During the fall, hockey and soccer are played with basketball, volleyball, track, and softball also being featured. Archery and tennis are planned for the spring, with a possibility of lacrosse being tried for the first time.

There is a close relationship between the Girls' Athletic Association and the intramural program, which sponsors all interscholastic activities with the aid of the physical education department.

Paramus High School certainly benefits by this intramural program which not only provides good sportsmanship among the students, but also co-ordinates the body, the mind, and the spirit of each girl.

Intramural athletics is a vital part in the sports program of Paramus High. Boys with varied abilities are able to participate in sports with more emphasis on competition, sportsmanship, and fair play.

Included among the sports are football, soccer, wrestling, weight lifting, table tennis, basketball, Softball, and track which meet many of the boys' needs and interests.

Jim Carpenter referees one of the fast-moving and exciting games of basketball played after school in the Boys' Intramurals Program.

On the Threshold of Tomorrow

It's all over. Ended. Done.
My high school years are through.
Last night they said, "We've done <»:' j«b
And now it's up to you."

"And now it's up to you", they said
And handed me this scroll
This scroll which reads DIPLOMA
This thing which was my goal.

Was this for what I longed so much
What seemed so far away
When homework got me down at night
And tests came every day?

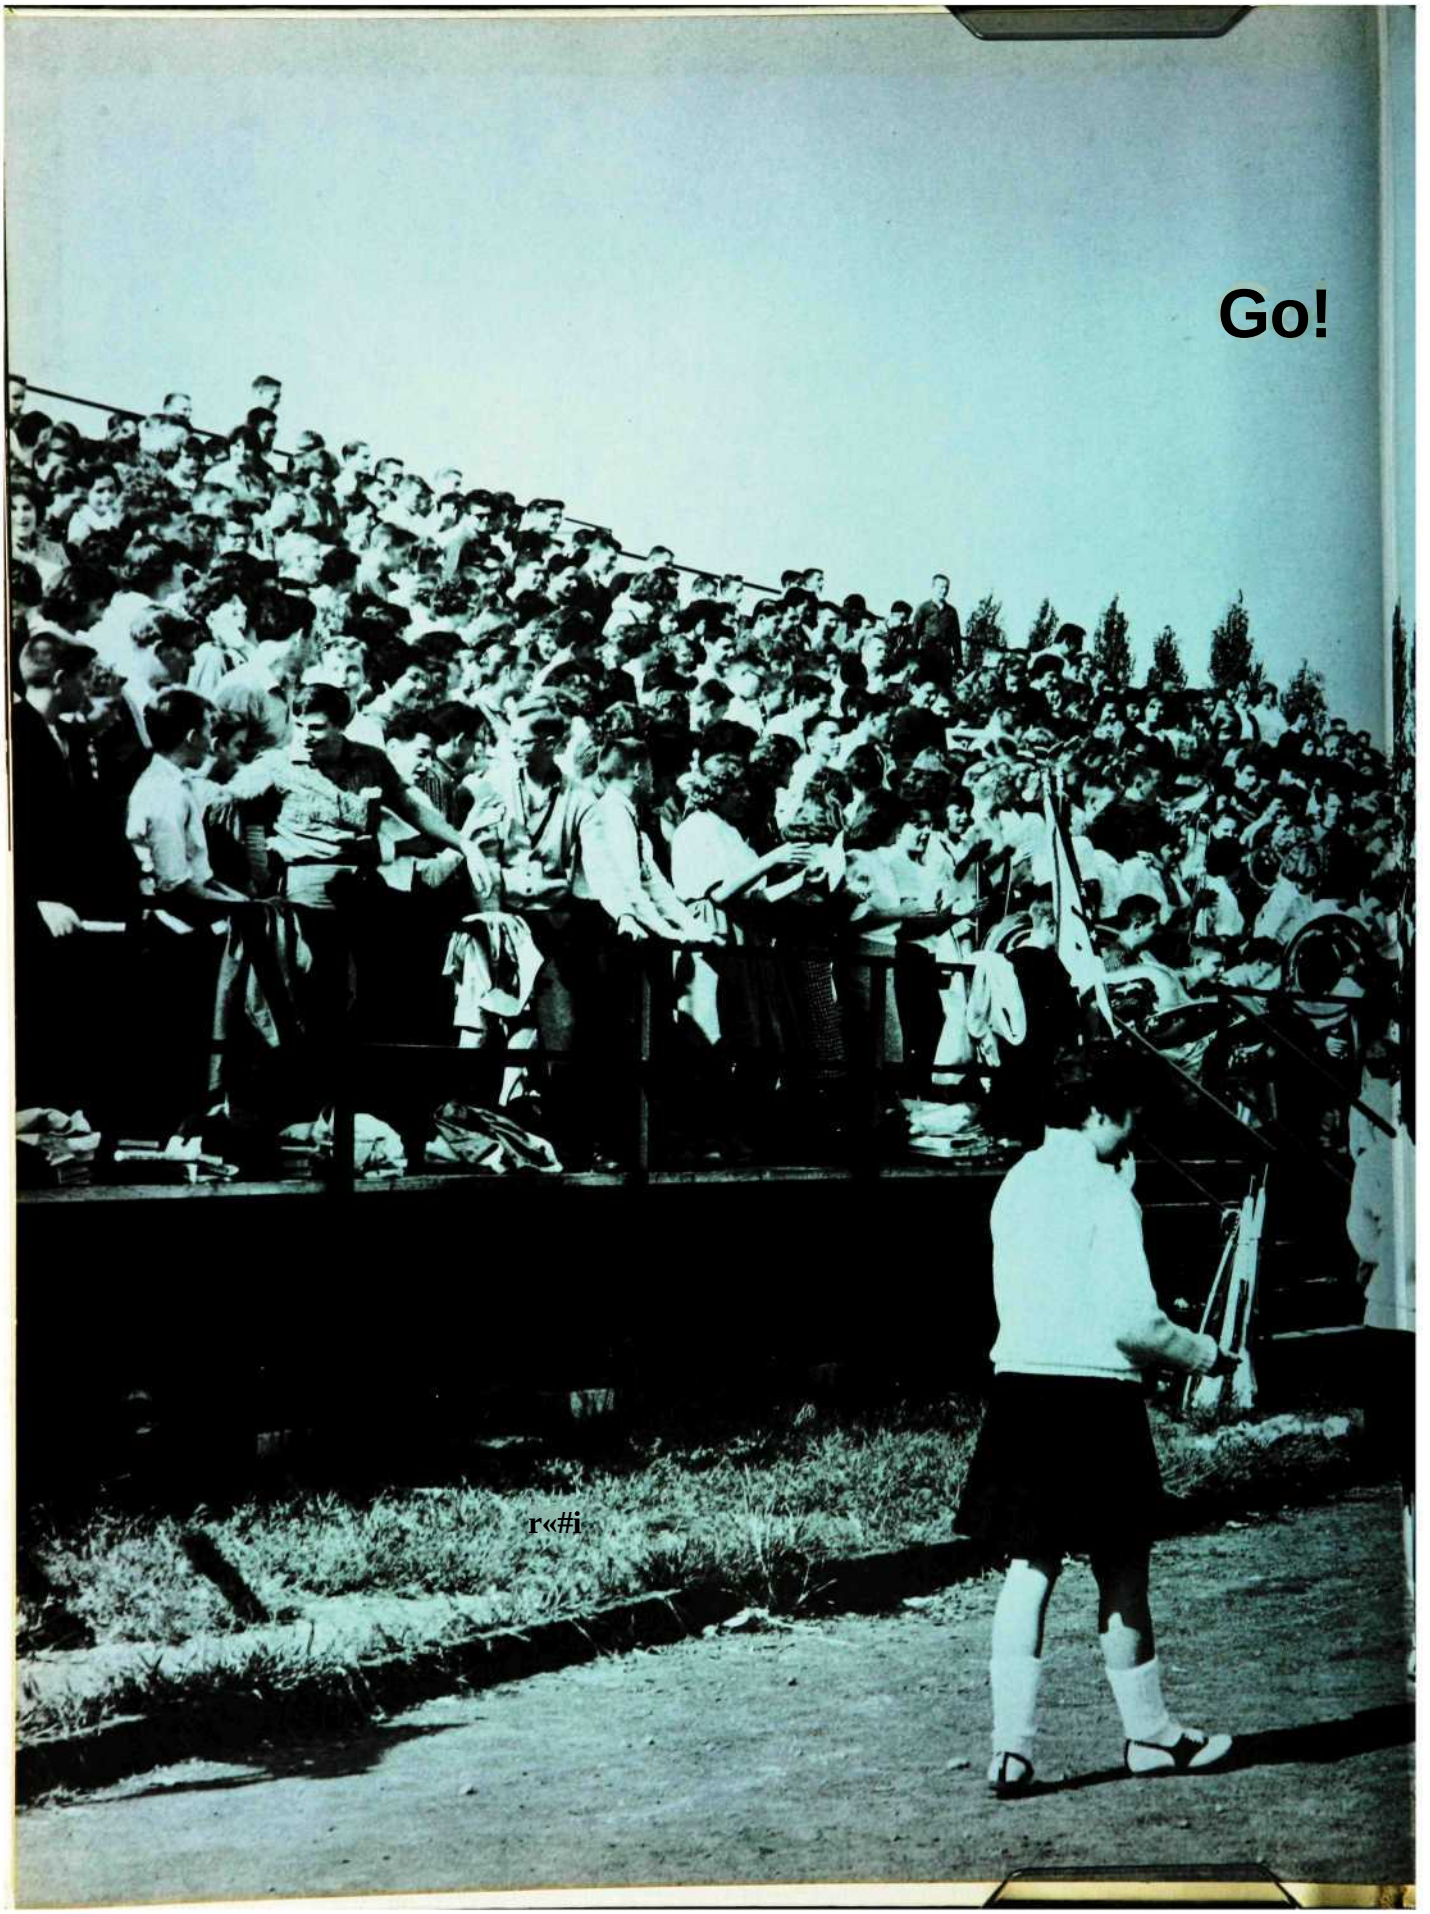

And is this all which still remains
My symbol of four years
My symbol of the time and work,
The laughter, joys and tears?

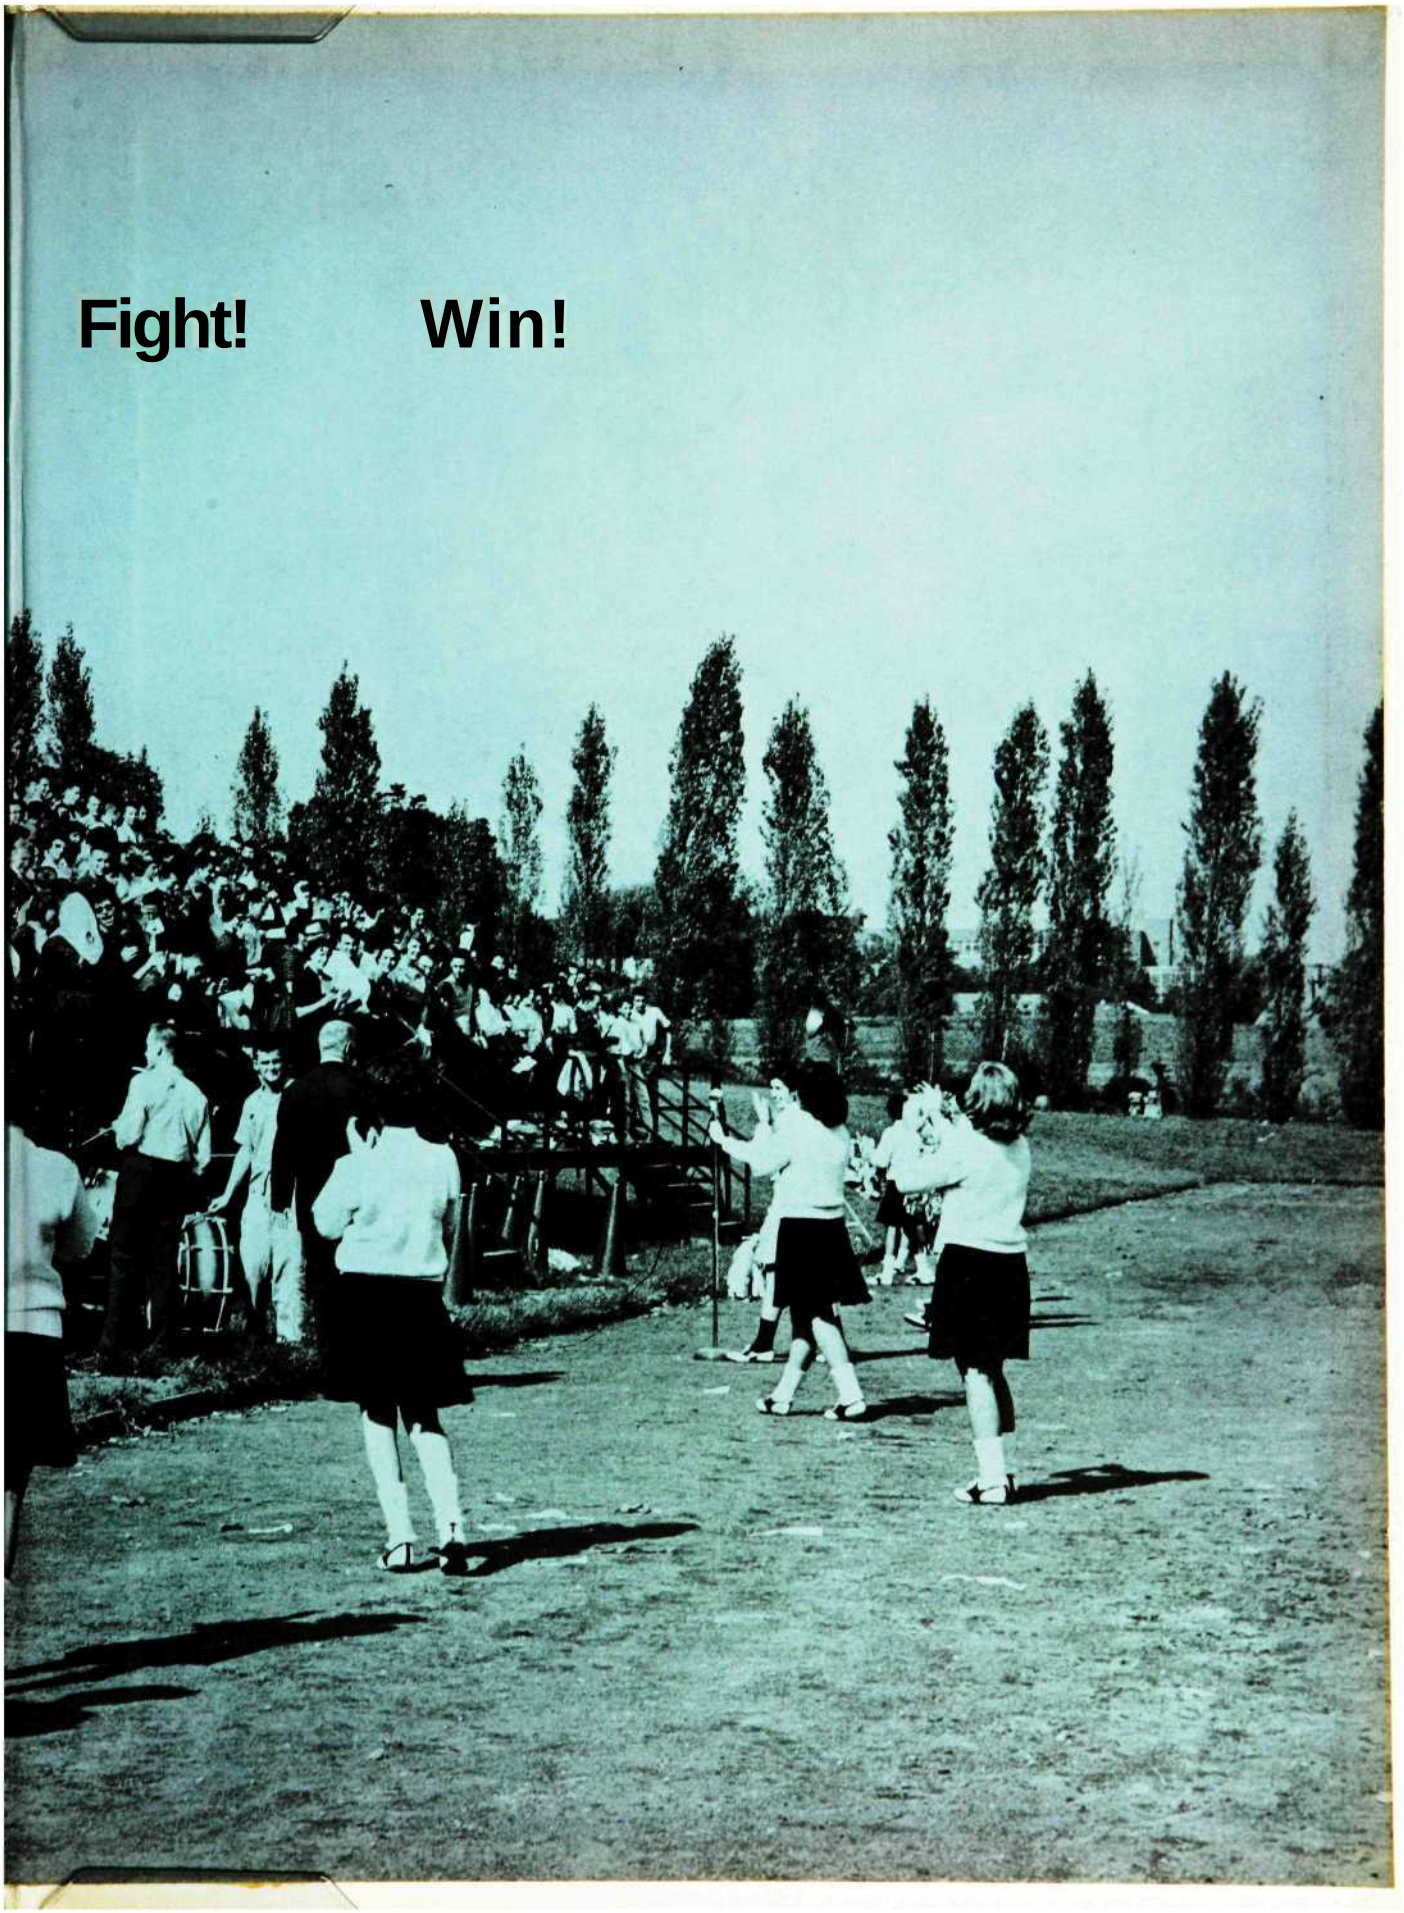

Ah, the years. Where have they gone?
So much I'd meant to do.
Four years of my young life! And which
Of all my dreams came true?

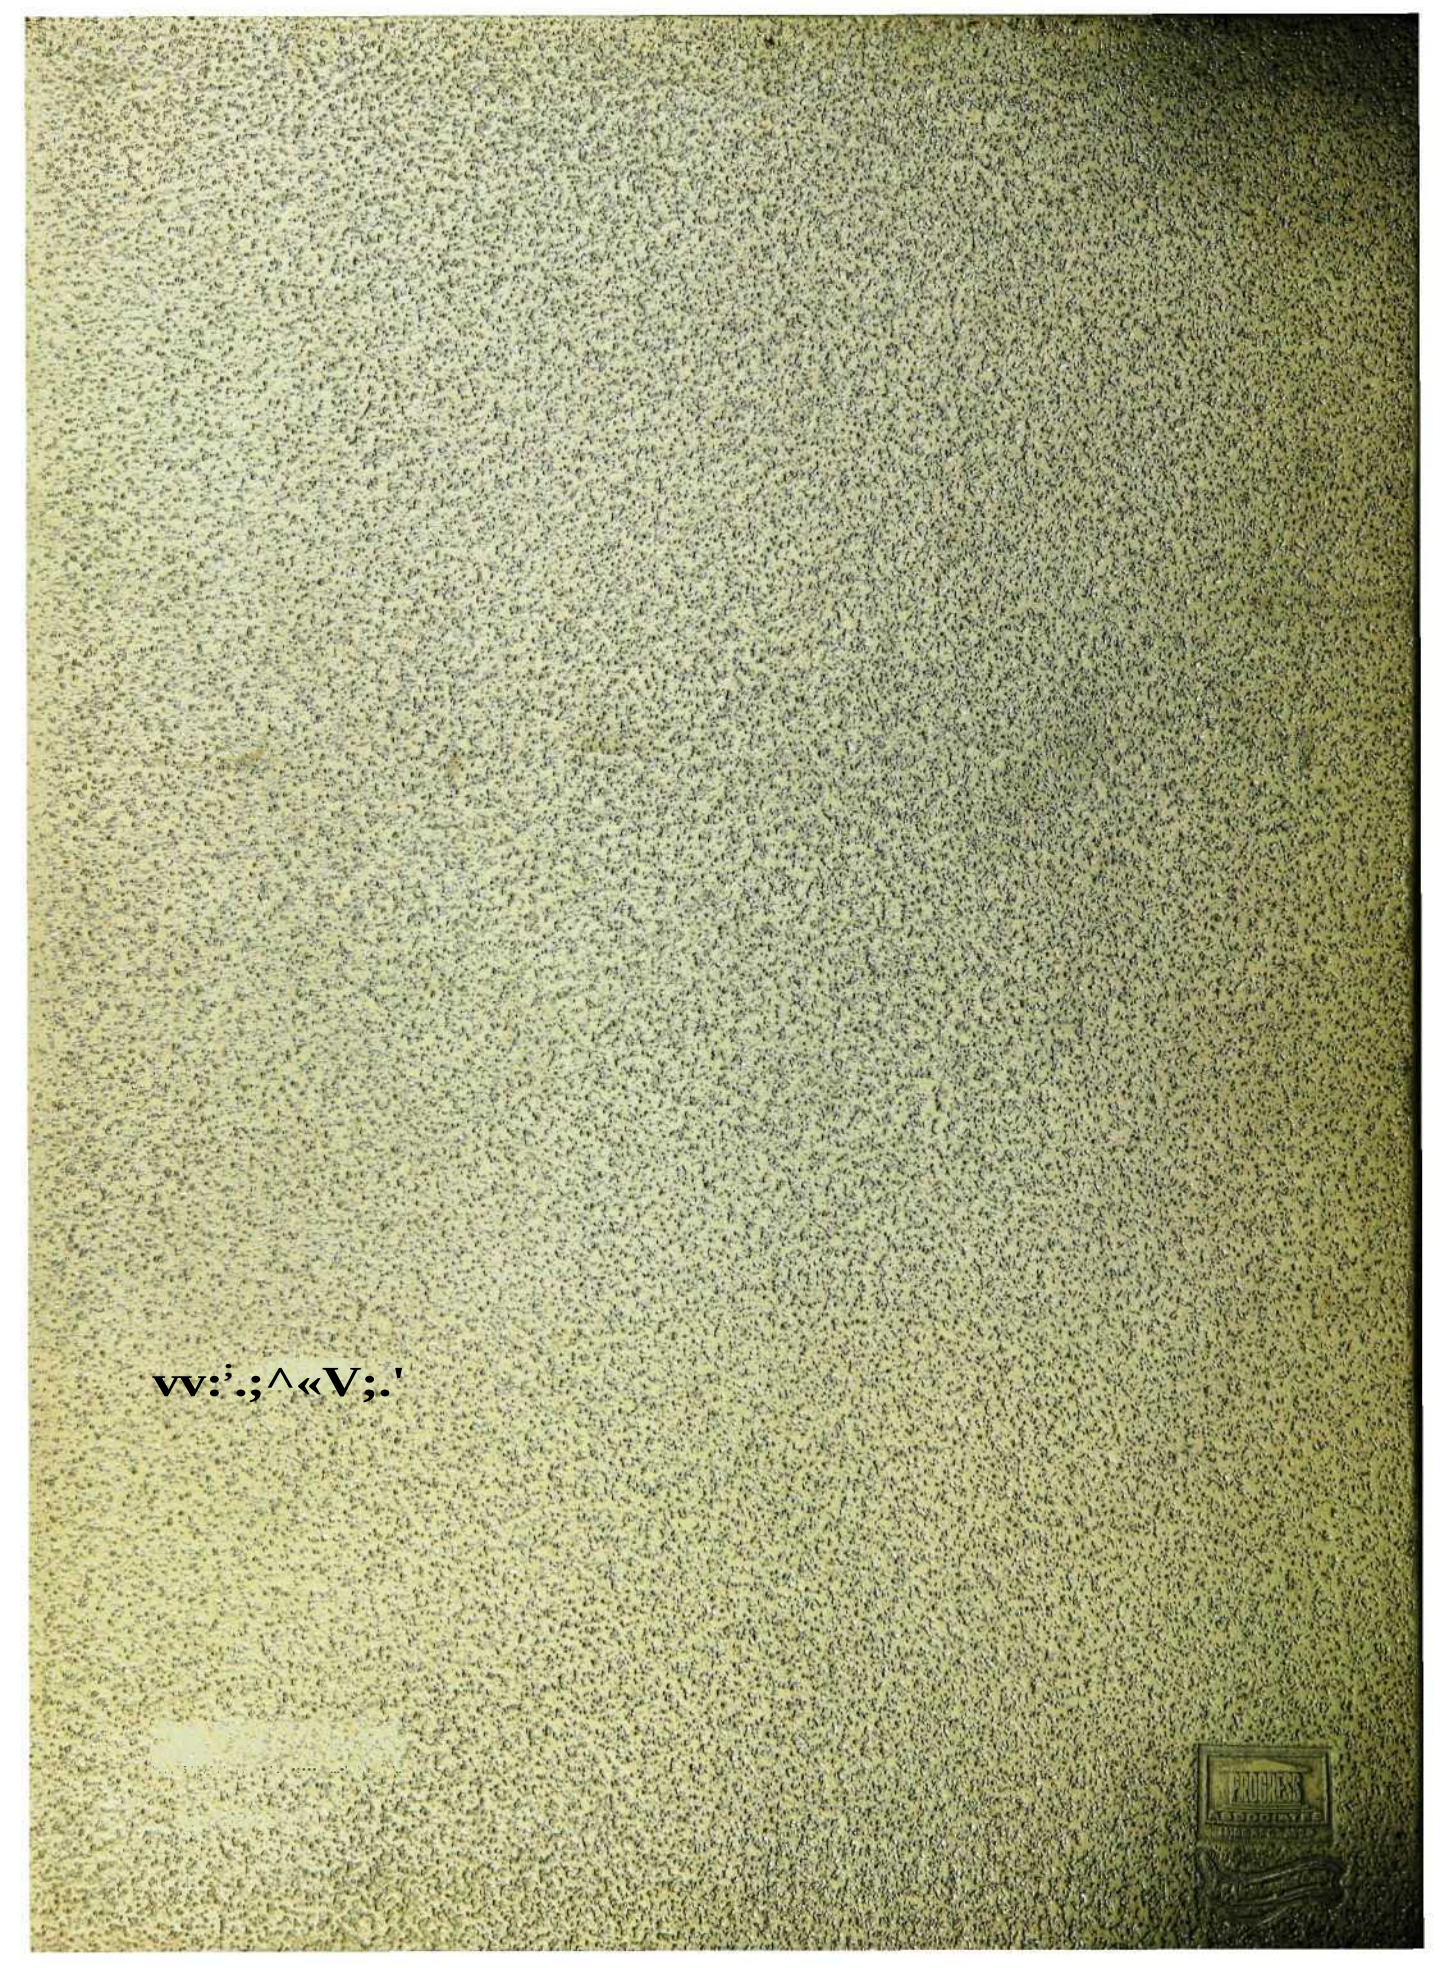

And what of all the friendships made?
Will time let them remain?
Or will it pass, leave friends behind
To reminisce in vain?

And will the knowledge which I gained
Be put to proper use
And in the light of future days
A better world produce?

Today I stand alone with my
Diploma in my hand.
Dear God, the things I learned here, help
Me truly understand.

Go!

Fight!
Win!
